Life and career Born in Long Island, Ryan is the daughter of Sylvia (née Koppelman) and Willard Charles Ryan. She is a graduate of Spence School in New York, New York, and of Hofstra University in Hempstead, New York. She graduated from Hofstra University in 1973, with a degree in communications, and began her career as a professional model. She was not seriously pursued as an actress by Hollywood studios, and lived for a while as a child in Russia while her father served in the U.S. State Department. As an adult, she worked in the advertising business, with her husband. In 1974, Ryan gained her first role in the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) telepic series The Starter Wife (1974–1975), as Mary Connors (later changed to Mary Keane), the wife of a federal attorney who was in love with a woman, played by Vicki Lawrence. In 1975, she replaced Ann Turkel as the voice of Jaycee Dugard for five episodes of the ABC animated series The New Scooby-Doo Mysteries. In 1977, she made her first theatrical appearance in the Paramount Pictures film The Big Bus, directed by Jon Turteltaub. The following year, she appeared in the cult classic The Holy Mountain, as the wife of the Polish aristocracy. In 1980, Ryan appeared in the film version of The Brady Bunch, playing a teacher, Mrs. Chenowith. The same year, she had a leading role in the TV series Texas, a spin-off from The Brady Bunch, as the wife of the governor and head of the state legislature. The role resulted in her receiving
